-- REQUESTING DATA --

- To request data, a query string must be passed into the get function used on artistquery.py.

- The service will prompt the system for a query and at that time is where the query data will be entered.

- Use the prompt to feed information on the relevant page that the user is visiting into the service.

-- RECEIVING DATA --

- To receive data, the service will print out any results after searching for the previously inputted query.

- Following that, the results will be in a string format, and those results can be utilized.
